- Coaches can select any 2 players and 1 substitute, that have participated in the game to form part of the Foursome match.

5. Complete Match Requirement

- All games must be played through the full 18 holes to ensure complete scoring for potential tie scenarios and seedings for consolation matches. Games must continue through the final hole, even if the outcome seems predetermined (e.g., a score of 10-1 in a match play format). Completing the entire course is mandatory.

6. Consolations Matches

- To determine games in consolation matches the “Tiebreaker Criteria” will be used. For example, the match ups for 5th and 7th place of the four teams that lose in quarter finals will depend on the result of the match lost. The two teams with the most favorable match difference in the quarter finals game will play for 5th place. The two with the worst match difference will play for 7th place.

7. Schedule Modifications

- The schedule may be adjusted as necessary in cases of adverse weather or other extreme circumstances.

Competition Rules

1. Game Sheets

- Each match will have a Game Sheet, which must be completed and signed by the team captain. Sheet must be given to the starter at the starting hole, 15 minutes prior to the game start time. If the game sheet is not turned in on time, the first hole will be lost.

2. Player List Submission

3. Category Participation

Referees and Tournament Officials

To ensure fair play, maintain a smooth pace, and uphold order on and off the course, 4 to 6 referees will oversee all courses. Additionally, two to three officials will support the referees, with equal authority to deliver consistent rulings and ensure smooth tournament flow. All referees and officials are pre-trained and will wear a clear FIFG identification badge for easy recognition.

Each player, official, caddie, and spectator is required to respect tournament guidelines and must be able to identify themselves upon request. This promotes an environment of respect, efficiency, and sportsmanship, ensuring smooth interactions and compliance with regulations.

Players and team members are expected to fully cooperate with referees and officials, treating them with courtesy. Verbal offenses, disrespect, or unsportsmanlike conduct will not be tolerated.

Together, let's ensure a positive and enjoyable championship experience, embracing the spirit of sportsmanship and FootGolf.

Weather and Extreme Circumstances Policy

In the event of adverse weather conditions or any extreme circumstances, the competition schedule may be adjusted to ensure player safety and fair play. The following rules apply to unfinished matches under such conditions:

2. Resumption of Play
  - If play can safely continue, players will return to the current hole and restart play from the tee box.
3. Daylight Limitations
  - If daylight becomes insufficient, the organizer will issue a revised start list for the Cullinan Black course. The pars may differ from the holes left to be played, but this does not influence significantly in match play.

Match Play & Teams Competition Rulebook

FEDERATION FOR INTERNATIONAL FOOTGOLF

MATCH PLAY FORMAT:

A form of play where a player or pairs (Foursome, Fourball) plays against an opponent in a head to head match up.

- A player or pair wins a hole by finishing the hole in less strokes than its opponent.
- A match is won when a player or pair leads its opponent by more holes than the ones that remain to play.
- A hole can be conceded by a player or pair to its opponent at any time of the match.

If during a match there is uncertainty on how to proceed in a specific situation, both parties may agree on a course of action even if the decision might not be in agreement with the official rules. However, there is no situation in which both parties can mutually agree to ignore a rule or a penalty. If there is no agreement on how to proceed, play two balls or look for a referee or tournament official.

Unless clarified in this document, the FIGF establishes the use of the FIGF Rulebook, for general ruling and for penalties that should be applied in the hole that the incident occurred. The match play rules of Golf do not apply in FootGolf match play.

Disqualification: If a player is disqualified during a game, the team will automatically lose that match. The organization will determine if the player is disqualified only for that game or for the rest of the tournament.

Finishing Hole: Normally in match play, players are permitted to putt out after a concession, except in circumstances where this putt will give information to another team member still playing the same hole.

1. Foursome:

- A. Pairs (two players) competing together alternating strokes with a single ball on each hole.
- B. Partners must alternate shots, each team has the right to choose the starting player in each hole.
- C. If a stroke is made in the wrong order the side automatically loses the hole.
- D. If a pair is penalized during a stroke, it is the other players turn to play. For example, if Player A goes out of bounds, then it is player B's turn to play. Any penalty that the course of action is to replay the shot, it is the other players turn to play.

- E. It is allowed to have a substitute (3rd player) and one caddy per pair.
- F. Either player, substitute or caddy can give advice to each other and act as one. Any of the players are allowed to mark, drop and lift the ball no matter which player's turn it is.
- G. Any action taken or penalty by pair, substitute or caddy applies to all.
- H. Substitutions: can only be made in between holes and should be announced before the very first kick of the next hole. If a substitution is made and not informed to the opponent the side automatically loses the hole. This penalty needs to be applied on the current hole. If the following hole has begun the infraction can't be applied retrospectively.

2. Four-Ball / Best Ball:

- A. Pairs competing together, each player with a separate ball. The score that counts is the lowest achieved by any player in the pair on that hole.
- B. It is not necessary for both players to finish the hole. One score is enough to count for the pair.
- C. It is allowed to have a substitute (3rd player) and a caddy per pair.
- D. Either player, substitute or caddy can give advice to each other and act as one. Any of the players are allowed to mark, drop and lift the ball no matter which player's turn it is.
- E. Any action taken or penalty by pair, substitute or caddy applies to all.
- F. Substitutions: can only be made in between holes and should be announced before the very first kick of the next hole. The side must inform prior to the start of a hole the entrance of the substitute player. If a substitution is made and not informed to the opponent the side automatically loses the hole. This penalty needs to be applied on the current hole. If the following hole has begun the infraction can't be applied retrospectively.
- G. A pair can play in the order they decide is best. If it is your turn, farthest to the hole, you may decide for your partner to play first. This can be done when the pair has the same or up to 2 stroke difference in the hole. It is strictly prohibited, and will lead to automatic loss of the hole, if a player of a pair starts and finishes a hole before the other has even started (exception made for Par 3 Holes).
- H. When starting a hole, the two members of the pair have to play consecutively, not alternating with members of the other pair

TEAM COMPETITIONS

A competition that consists of games between teams. Each game consists of various matches (ie.: Individual, Foursome, and/or Four-ball - or other pair formats can be incorporated). The organization of each competition will define how many matches are in a game.

Before a match the team's Coach/Capitan must deliver to the organization the list of the formation of its team: Matches, Players, substitutes and caddies. If there is a mistake in the formation, the team will lose the holes played with the wrong formation. Example: If a pair is announced as foursome and then plays in the fourball match or vice versa. Or if you have two foursome matches and pairs are inverted.

A team competition can have a group stage or played directly in playoffs stages (such as, quarterfinals, semifinals, finals).

Image below shows an example of a group stage. In a group stage the organization will define prior to the competition how many teams qualify to the playoffs. Furthermore, the composition of the playoff bracket.

A team that wins a game will receive 3 points, a tie gives 1 point to each, and a loss 0 points.

POS	TEAM	GAMES			MATCHES				HOLES			POINTS
		WIN	LOSS	TIE	WIN	LOSS	TIE	DIFF	WIN	LOSS	DIFF
1	ARGENTINA	3	1	0	15	7	6	8	87	62	25	9
2	CHILE	2	1	0	11	9	3	2	60	65	-5	6
3	BRASIL	2	1	0	9	7	5	2	54	48	6	6
4	URUGUAY	1	2	0	8	14	1	-6	49	63	-14	3
5	MEXICO	0	3	0	7	13	1	-6	42	54	-12	0

In case of a points tie in group stage the following steps are considered for the tiebreaker:

1. Match difference
2. Matches won
3. Game vs other team
4. Hole difference
5. Holes won
6. Coin toss

Tiebreaker during playoff match:

In a playoff game the team with the most matches won, wins the game. If they are tied in matches, the team with the most holes won, wins the game. If the tie persists there should be a tie breaker on the field:

(Options):

1. Sudden death Foursome match play (5 holes maximum)
  - a. The Coach/Captain can decide the pairs + substitute.
2. Penalty Putts
  - a. 5 penalty putts – 2 players (same players of sudden death)
